CONTENTS

The editors’ preface .......................................................................................................................... 3
A speech of Dušan Čaplovič, the Deputy Prime Minister of the Slovak Republic for the knowledge society, European affairs, human rights and minorities at the scientific conference Yeomanry in Slovakia in the Modern Age held in Martin .......... 6
An address of Alexander Zacharides, the representative of the Town of Martin ............... 8
An address of Miloš Kovačka, the Director of the National Bibliographic Institute of the Slovak National Library .............................................................................................. 9
Ján Lukačka: The middle and lower nobility in Slovakia by the end of the Middle Ages....... 14
Jan Županič: The lower nobility of the hereditary lands and Hungary in comparative perspective ............................................................................................... 19
Miroslav Martinický: Some notes to the crisis of the yeoman status in the 16th and particularly the 17th century .................................................................................... 31
Maroš Mačuha: Military duty of the nobility in the modern age
   (on example of Turiec County) .......................................................................................... 51
Vladimír Segeš: Three generations of the Polereckys in service of the god Mars .............. 81
István Czigány: The role of the nobility in the defense system of the Nové Zámky and Košice main captaindoms between 1600 and 1655 ................................................. 92
Peter Kónya: The nobility in small towns and villages of Upper Zemplin in the 17th-18th century ....................................................................................................... 101
Elena Beňušová: The Orava yeomanry ................................................................................... 116
Tomáš Janura: Noble officials of Liptov County in the 18th century ................................ 152
Václav Horčička: Alexander Nuber von Pereked as the Consul General of Austria-Hungary in New York between 1909 and 1917 ............................................. 169
Zdenko Ďuriška: Blue blood Martiners .................................................................................. 176 Adriana Švecová: Inheritance law of the nobility in Hungary with regard to the legal situation of the late modern age and the free royal town of Trnava ........... 199
Jiří Brňovják: Traces of the Hungarian lower nobility in quaterns of majesties and oats of loyalty of the Moravian Land Register from the second half of the 17th century to the first half of the 19th century ................................................................. 292

Viera Bernátová: Is the nobleman´s status higher than that of the burgher? ............................................ 313

Mária Hešková: The nobility in Žilina in the 18th century ................................................................. 317

Mária Kohútová: The yeomanry in Holíč and Šaštín estates ................................................................. 322

Frederik Federmayer: The baron branch of the Ruttkay-Vrútocký family. Genealogy and the development of the coat of arms ................................................................. 332

Richard Lacko: The Just family of Necpaly – an example of the social and property position of the middle nobility ............................................................................................................ 353

Zuzana Lopatková: The property situation and everyday life of predialists in the modern age (on example of the yeoman Ižold family of Rybník) ........................................... 362

Index ................................................................................................................................................... 375